

HOUSE REVISION

After a hectic week, I was finally back in my 1) _____ studio apartment — home sweet 2) _____. I kicked off my shoes, ready to unwind, only to notice the clutter spilling from the attic-like storage nook to the living room. It was time to 3) _____ and start tidying up the mess I'd been ignoring.

Just as I was about to dive into the chaos, my friend texted, asking if she could drop by. "Make yourself at home," I said when she arrived, laughing at the irony. She glanced around at the piles of books and papers scattered across the 4) _____ and joked, "Looks like you've been building castles in the 5) _____ instead of organizing."

Together, we managed to clear up each 6). _____ and make the place feel as open as a spacious loft. We even rearranged the furniture to give it a fresh look, moving my favorite chair closer to the 7) _____ outside for a perfect reading spot. By the end, the apartment felt 8) _____ and well-kept — a true home sweet home.

As we settled down on the cozy sofa with cups of tea, we agreed that, whether it's a small flat or a 9) _____ house, home is where the 10) _____ is.
