PART I Key Vocabulary

Introduction to e-mail

E-mail is a system or means of sending and receiving messages from one computer to another, which can happen anywhere and anytime between computer users from different places around the world.

The spelling of this short form is different according to popularity. Some people may spell email, and some may simply spell mail.

A document or le can also be sent with an e-mail message, which is called attachment.

The word e-mail is short for electronic mail.

The use of e-mail requires access to the Internet.

Activity 9.1 Listen and repeat these words from the above infographic.

Video
Aimphan Channel
https://qrcode.link/a/iv5FW9

e-mail	system	means	attachment	access	Internet
(อีเมล)	(ระบบ)	(วิธี)	(เอกสารที่แนบมากับอีเมล)	(ทางเข้า, สิทธิในการเข้า	(อินเทอร์เน็ต)

e-mail as a noun
e-mail as a verb

Activity 9.2

Look at these sentences. Which sentences use e-mail or email as a noun? And which sentences use e-mail or email as a verb?

1. You can contact me by e-mail.
2. Dean sent me an e-mail last month.
3. I received an email from a customer.
4. Jane forgot to check her e-mail.
5. What is your email address?
6. Amanda e-mailed me this morning.
7. I will email you the documents.
8. Please email the documents to me.
9. Don't forget to e-mail me back.
10. Can you email me the schedule by the end of today?

Video
Aimphan Channel
https://qrcode.link/a/6Kj7HN

LIVEWORKSHEETS