- A Communication is important
- B Keep in tidy
- C Don't eat other people's food
- D Sharing bills
- E Be nice

1 _____
 You can tidy your room when you want to, but think about the communal areas like the kitchen and living room. You need to share the cleaning with your flatmates, but also clean up after you use something yourself. It's a good idea to wash up immediately after eating. That way dishes and other things are easier to clean, too.

2 _____
 Make sure you agree with your flatmates how to share the bills from the beginning. It's not just bills, there are other things it's a good idea to share, such as cleaning products and common condiments like salt, pepper, cooking oil, etc. Keep a chart for who pays what and when.

3 _____
 It's a good idea to have a whiteboard somewhere like the kitchen where everybody can see it. You can write messages on it for each other when you're not there, and clean them off when everyone's read them. It's also a good idea to have a visitor calendar for when your friends or family come to stay. You don't want to be in the situation where two or more of you invite people to stay and when they turn up you realise you don't have any space.

4 _____
 There are lots of ways to do this, from a simple 'please' and 'thank you' at the right times, to offering to help when others have a problem. If you have time, offer to do someone else's housework when they're busy. You might find you need their help one day!

4. WRITING

A) See attached file.

5. LISTENING

A) Listen to an interview with a man cycling around the world. Are the sentences true (T) or false (F)?

- 1 The weather is warm and sunny where Kevin is. _____
