Fill in the blanks with the correct form of the verb in parentheses (Past Simple, Present Perfect, or Present Perfect Continuous).

Interviewer: So, tell me about your work experience. (work)

Candidate: Sure! I.....(work) in the marketing industry for the past five years.

Interviewer: Interesting. Where exactly .....(you/work) before?

Candidate: I .....(start) my career at a small advertising agency, where I .....(spend) three years as a junior marketing specialist. Then, I ..... (move) to my current company, where I ..... (develop) digital marketing campaigns since 2021.

Interviewer: That's great! What's the most challenging project you ..... (ever/manage)?

Candidate: Last year, I .....(lead) a campaign for a major international client. It .....(be) a tough but rewarding experience.

Interviewer: I see. And what skills do you think you .....(improve) the most in your current role?

Candidate: I .....(focus) a lot on data analysis and SEO strategies lately. I really feel that I.....(become) much more confident in these areas over the past year.

Interviewer: I see. Why are you interested in this position?

Candidate: Well, I ..... (follow) your company's work for some time, and I ..... (always/admire) your innovative approach to marketing.

Interviewer: what do you consider do be your greatest accomplishment in your career?

Candidate: I once landed a $35 million dollar contract with the top advertising agency in California. It was a lot of work, but in the end it was definitely worth it!

LIVEWORKSHEETS