Chose the words from the box that best fit in hustle picturesque absolutely complex entire occasion unexpected allow actually citizen forbidden doubts variety for instance foreign however title related

Jake was an ordinary _____ of a small town, but he always dreamed of something bigger. He wanted to escape the daily _____ of school, chores, and responsibilities. His town was _____, with charming houses and beautiful hills, but he longed for adventure.

One day, on a special _____, his uncle, who was a traveler, came to visit. He brought gifts from _____ lands and shared exciting stories. _____, he once rode a camel through the desert! Jake listened with wide eyes, wishing he could experience such things.

_____, there was a problem—his parents would never _____ him to travel alone. They thought it was too dangerous. Jake had _____ too. Could he _____ handle an adventure on his own?

Then, something _____ happened. His uncle invited him on a short trip! Jake was excited but nervous. Would he be able to leave his _____ comfortable life behind, even for a little while?

His parents thought it was _____, but his uncle convinced them that it would be a learning experience. "Travel teaches you about different cultures and a _____ of people," he explained.

The journey was amazing but also _____. Navigating busy streets in a new city, trying _____ food, and hearing different languages made Jake realize how big the world was. He felt _____ alive!

By the end of the trip, he had no _____—he wanted to explore more of the world. This adventure was just the beginning.

LIVEWORKSHEETS