"My name's Marco. I want to be a chef. I've worked in my family's restaurant since I was young. Last summer, I was in a local cooking competition. I haven't been on any cooking shows yet, but I'd love to try. My favourite chef is Gordon Ramsay. I've watched all his cooking programs. He started his career very young and has always focused on learning and teaching others. When he was twenty-six, he became the head chef at Aubergine restaurant. Since then, he's opened many successful restaurants. I really admire his charity work too. He's helped many young chefs learn the trade. He's also supported food education programs in schools. That's something I'd like to do someday too."
