- 1 Well, this picture shows a group of young people ... they are probably about fifteen years old.
- 2 It looks like they're in a school classroom, so they must be students.
- 3 I think it might be a school in Britain, because they're all wearing the same clothes ... like a uniform.
- 4 I don't know what they're studying ... maybe something like maths or computer science.
- 5 The two people in the foreground ... the boy and the girl ... are looking at a screen together.
- 6 In the centre of the picture, there's also a man. He must be the teacher because he's talking to these two students and showing them something on the screen. They look interested in what he is saying.
- 7 In the background, there's a boy sitting looking at his screen, and there's a girl beside him - it looks as if they are also studying something on screen.
- 8 In fact, the thing you really notice is that everyone in this picture is working ... You can tell they are interested because no one is just chatting or looking at their phones.
