A Mistake

One Christmas eve, the Stopes family were invited to stay at their friends' new house in Scotland. As it was very (1)_____ away, and the Stopes would not be (2)_____ to arrive before midnight, their friends agreed (3)_____ leave the gate open and put the key under a rock outside the front door. In (4)_____ way, the Stopes could let themselves in (5)_____ waking their friends up.

The map that their friends (6)_____ drawn for them was not very good, so they did not find the house (7)_____ about 1 o'clock in the morning. The gate (8)_____ locked, so Gary, the eldest of the three brothers, climbed over and unlocked (9)_____ from the inside. The family marched towards the house and began to look (10)_____ the front door key. Before they found it, however, the father whispered that the back door had (11)_____ left open anyway, so they all got in through that.

It had been a long tiring journey, so the Stopes (12)_____ themselves some tea and sandwiches. All the time they kept very quiet so (13)_____ not to wake up their friends. At one thirty in the morning they crept upstairs and found three empty rooms (14)_____ which to sleep. The (15)_____ morning, Christmas day, they came downstairs and found two complete strangers sitting at the table. The whole family had accidentally broken into the house next door!
