Healthy living with Susan Miller

Welcome to my blog! As you know I really enjoy eating delicious meals. When I was younger I used to cook with lots of olive oil and butter because I wanted my food to be tasty. I used to believe that healthy food means tasteless food. But today I know better.

One healthy dish that has become my favorite is a chicken salad. This colorful dish gives our body all the necessary vitamins and proteins and tastes amazing too.

The secret of the perfect chicken salad is in its ingredients. You can use other kinds of meat instead of chicken, but I prefer it because it goes well with vegetables. I like to put lots of lettuce, tomatoes, cucumbers, onion and pepper. Then I grate some cheese and mix it in too.

Finally, I add a table spoon of olive oil and pour some fresh lemon juice on top. Try this salad. You are going to have it.
