A Taste of Adventure

A Hilary Bradt: aged 15

Last year, I went to Guatemala on an ecotourism holiday with my family. We stayed with a local family of coffee farmers. They showed us how to harvest coffee, carry it in a speacial backpack and roast it. I don't really like the taste of coffee, but I loved the smell when we roasted it. The best part was that I made friends with a girl on the farm and now we're penfriends. I'm even learning Spanish!

B Kevin Rushby: aged 16

For our last family holiday, we went to the Great Barrier Reef in Australia. It was amazing. I saw loads of multicolored fish and even learned how to dive. We also visited a turtle sanctuary, and helped to take baby turtles out to the beach, their natural habitat. Forgetting the suncream, I got really sunburned. It was worth it though, to see the baby turtles swimming away.

C Terry Nguyem: aged 16

Last summer, I went to Nam Cat Tien in south Viet Nam with my aunt, unle and cousins. My aunt loves adventure holidays. We stayed on a campsite in the jungle, and the local guide took us to see local wildlife. On the first day, I saw a wild boar and a monkey, which ran awya with my glasses. I got separated from the group, and didn't know where they were. I was terrified! Finally, I heard the guide calling me. I wasn't lost for long, but I felt like ages!
