

1. Relaciona la expresión con su significado:

All right	Informal feeling sad or without hope
At ease	adj. Unhappy because you keep thinking about a problem
Concerned	Phrasal verb to depend on someone or something, especially in a difficult situation
Count on	adv. Relaxed
Feeling blue	adj. Worried
Worried	adv. Okay

2. Lee la siguiente historia y rellena con la palabra correcta:

The Magic Paintbrush

One day, Lily found a magic paintbrush in her backyard. She picked it up and said, “All right, let’s see what this can do!”

She painted a big, yellow sun in the air. Suddenly, the real sun came out!
“Wow!” she shouted.

But then, Lily saw her friend Max sitting alone under a tree. He looked worried.

“What’s wrong, Max?” Lily asked.

“I’m just feeling blue,” Max said. “I lost my puppy.”

Lily felt concerned, but she smiled and said, “Don’t worry. Count me in. I’ll help you find him!”

They searched the park together. After a while, they heard a little bark. “That’s him!” Max said, running toward the sound.

There was the puppy, hiding behind a bench. Max picked him up and hugged him tight.

“Thank you, Lily,” Max said, finally at ease and happy again.

“You’re welcome!” Lily smiled. “Magic or not, friends help friends.”

Otra:

Leo and the Race

Leo wanted to win the school race. He ran every day. He was tired, but he didn’t stop.

On race day, he felt anxious. “What if I lose?” he thought.

The race began. Leo ran fast. A boy fell down, but Leo was stubborn. He did not stop.

Leo finished second. He felt disappointed. He thought, “Why am I not happy?”

His teacher said, “The boy is okay, but you could have helped.”

Leo felt ashamed. He knew he made a mistake.

At home, Leo felt bored and a little sad. “Next time,” he said, “I will help.”