

ACTIVITY 6      CHECK YOURSELF

Read the statements below and decide whether each statement is TRUE or FALSE.

	STATEMENTS	True	False
1	Transactional talk is primarily focused on exchanging information or completing a task
2	Interactional talk is mainly used in professional settings and does not involve building relationships.
3	Small talk is an example of interactional talk.
4	In transactional conversations, the main goal is to establish a rapport with the other person.
5	Transactional talk might occur during a job interview when discussing qualifications.
6	Interactional talk often includes phrases that show empathy and interest in the other person's feelings.
7	It is not important to listen actively during transactional talk since the main focus is on completing a task.
8	Examples of transactional talk include ordering food, making a reservation, or asking for directions.
9	Interactional talk is characterized by informal language and can include humor and anecdotes.
10	Both transactional and interactional talk can occur simultaneously in a conversation.		