A TikTok Sensation

From a young age, Charli D'Amelio was a competitive dancer, so she didn't start her social media career at the age of 15. Her first video in May 2019 was of her miming to a song with her friend. It became very popular and she was very surprised. Then, she started making videos of her dancing to new and popular songs.

She joined a group of young teenage Tik Tokers, including her sister in California called the Hype House to make videos together easily. In November 2019, she started her own YouTube vlog channel. Then, she did many advertisements, including one for UNICEF, and during the COVID-19 pandemic she started a dance challenge campaign on TikTok.

Since then, she has starred in some music videos and a film. She has started her own make-up line and written a book called Charli: The Ultimate Guide to Keeping It Real which talks about social media, body image and cyberbullying.

In 2020, she became the first person to get 100 million fans on TikTok and won a few awards. She now appears in several reality TV shows and she has won Dancing with the Stars. She has started a music career and released her first single.

People call her TikTok's biggest star. She has given money to charity, including the American Dance Movement, to help young people get access to dance education in America.

- 1 At a young age, Charli wanted to be a social media star.

- 2 Her first video was in 2015.

- 3 Her first video was of her dancing with a friend.
