THE STORY OF KINGFISHER AND WAR

Read the story, and then answer the questions below.

Once upon a time, there were twin brothers. One was called Kingfisher while the other was known as Cockerel. Kingfisher was a stubborn child. Cockerel on the other hand was a gentle boy.

One day, Kingfisher told his mother to buy him 'war' from the market. Instead of buying 'war' his mother bought him Akara.

Kingfisher was not happy that his mother did not buy him 'war'.

The next day, he requested for 'war' , and for the second time his mother refused. Kingfisher this time around was very angry saying that he will kill his mother if she fails to buy 'war' for him from the market.

Finally , Kingfisher's mother bought the 'war'. It was a swarm of bees hidden in a calabash.

On giving Kingfisher the swarm of bees, she quickly left the house. She knew the danger that awaited Kingfisher. Kingfisher was very happy, smiling all over that his request had been granted.
