OCTOBER ROSE

October Rose is an awareness campaign that aims to warn women and society about the importance of prevention and early diagnosis of breast cancer and more recently about cervical cancer. In Brazil, breast cancer awareness campaigns have been taking place since 2002 and since 2011 on cervical cancer in several states. Advertising has taken on pink as a motivator for campaigns in the period, and social media actions also tend to be reinforced during this month. However, medical experts pointed out in a survey presented at ISPOR In 2017, although awareness is very important, care must be taken with the messages released during this period. An analysis of posts made on networks such as Facebook and Twitter in Portuguese showed that there is a lot of misinformation in awareness campaigns, especially about self-examination, which is not considered sufficient for early detection of the disease.
