The map

My name's Michael and I live with my parents and my sister, Mary. In the holidays, we always camp in the countryside.

Last July, my dad decided that my sister and I were old enough to camp alone for one night. So, one day, we prepared our rucksacks. Then Dad gave us a map. We looked at it carefully. We could see the place where Dad wanted us to stay. We had to follow the path round the lake and then through the forest.

We said goodbye to Mum and Dad and walked round the lake. Soon, we got to the forest. 'Let's find some wood so we can make a fire tonight,' said Mary. We were picking up wood when suddenly Mary said, 'Michael, where's the path?' I looked round, but I couldn't see it anywhere. 'Oh, no!' I said.

'Let's look at the map,' Mary said. 'We'll find it, don't worry.' We saw that it wasn't far away. When we got to the path, we looked at the map again and then we walked straight on. Half an hour later, we got to the place. I made the tent and Mary made a fire. We cooked some food and then went to sleep because we were very tired. In the morning, we woke up and saw that Mum and Dad were outside! Mary said, 'We were lucky we had the map! Thanks, Dad!'
