Olena: Do you actually like school, Max?

Max: Hmm... depends on the day. I like seeing my friends and some of the classes are _____. But waking up early? Not so much.

Olena: Same! I like school, though. I enjoy learning new things, especially when we do group projects or _____. It's just... the homework never ends.

Max: Don't even get me started. What do you think about the school rules?

Olena: Most of them are okay. Like, no phones in class makes sense. But the _____ rule? Come on—it's just a hoodie! But anyway, what's your favourite subject?

Max: Art and _____ for sure. Art lets me be creative, and science is just... cool. You?

Olena: I love English. Writing stories is my thing. And I actually like math too—it's fun when I figure something out.

Max: Respect. I'm not a big fan of history though. Too many dates to _____.

Olena: Ugh, same!

Max: So, are you in any clubs?

Olena: Yeah! I'm in drama club and the book club. We're rehearsing a _____ now—it's about a space mission gone wrong. What about you?

Max: _____ club. We're building a robot that follows lines on the floor. It's way harder than I thought, but pretty nice.

Olena: That sounds so cool. Maybe you can make one that _____ our homework.

Max: Now that would be the most popular kid in school.
