The best school trip ever!

My name is George and I go to South Street School. We go on lots of school trips. In September, we went on the best school trip ever.

It was very hot, so I wore shorts and a T-shirt, but our teacher, Mr Green, told us we had to bring warm clothes so I put jeans and a sweater in my bag. The bus driver drove for two hours and then we stopped at a village. It was still very hot, but Mr Green told us to take our bags. We started walking out of the village.

Soon Mr Green said, 'Can you see that hill? That's where we're going. It's only one kilometre away.' I didn't understand why we needed warm clothes. I didn't think it was going to be cold on the hill. But I understood when we got to the bottom of the hill. I could see the entrance to a cave!

'OK,' said Mr Green, 'Put on your warm clothes now. It's going to be cold down there.' I put on my jeans and my sweater, and then Mr Green gave us all hard hats which had torches on them.

The cave was great! Some students were frightened, but I wasn't. It was very dark, but we had the torches so we could see. We saw hundreds of bats, and I felt their wings when they flew past us. It was very exciting!
