I've been travelling around Japan with my family for three weeks. I went on a boat trip yesterday with my grandma. The tour guide was really nice. She showed us many interesting places. We're travelling by land across Japan, by train and car. At the moment, we're in the waiting room of a train station. The trains are always on time here so we haven't been waiting for a long time. We've been to so many amazing places so far. Next stop is Kyoto. We are going to stay in a traditional hotel. The accommodation here is small but very clean and comfortable. Last week we were in Miyajima. It's a small island not far from Japan's biggest island. We travelled there on a boat by sea. We stayed in a hotel next to the beach. I've been swimming in the sea and I've been walking along the beaches. I haven't been using my phone very often. I haven't needed to because I'm having so much fun!

- How long have they been travelling? _____
- Who has showed them around? A _____
- Where are they waiting now? At a _____
- What is the accommodation like? It's small, but _____
