Task 4: Identifying similar and contrasting ideas and opinions (8 marks)

You are Frankie Lau, and you work for an IT company. Your boss is considering making a proposal to introduce a four-day working week for the company's staff. He has asked you to survey your colleagues to get their opinions on this idea. Refer to the text messages and notes you have received and write each person's name in the correct space in the Venn diagram on page 5. Note that some people's opinions will fall into more than one category.

Text messages from colleagues

Note from Peggy

Hey Frankie! Good to hear from you. I've asked around among my team members and can tell you that Geoff reckons colleagues should be allowed to choose for themselves: they could either do four days with longer hours or five days with shorter. Jackie, on the other hand, is entirely against the whole idea of the four-day working week. She doesn't see why there would need to be any changes whatsoever made to the working hours, either. However, when my personal assistant, Leila, echoed Jackie's opinions, I know for a fact that she wasn't completely honest. You see, I've heard from others that she's all in favour of the 4-day idea, even if it means longer hours. As for me, you know my thoughts: let's just work shorter days. See you soon.

Note from Chris

Seriously Frankie, do you really need to ask me about this? You know how much harder I work than everyone else in this office! I'm hardly going to support a proposal that would allow everyone to slack off even more than they already do, am I? If we have to make any changes around here, I'd say let's give everyone MORE working hours, not fewer!

Task 5: Reading minutes (22 marks)

You are Charlie Chen, and you work for a music company called XS Recordings. Your boss, Sheila Tan, XS Recordings' CEO has asked you to do three tasks: write a press release, write a profile and write a proposal. Read the meeting minutes below and answer the questions on page 7.

Staff meeting of XS Recordings

Date:	Fri, 20 September
Venue:	Meeting Room 2
Chairperson:	Sheila Tan, CEO
Members:	Malcolm Quinn, Talent Manager Patty Watson, Marketing Manager Zoe Yung, Operations Manager
Secretary:	Charlie Chen

New signings

Mr Quinn reported that he had signed a new female vocalist, Hannah Martens, to XS Recordings. He explained that Ms Martens, aged 24, is also an accomplished harpist and writes all her own songs. Mr Quinn approached Ms Martens last month and offered her our standard three-album contract. After negotiations, Ms Martens accepted a fee of HK$380,000 and signed the contract on Wednesday, 18 September. All agreed that the signing of Ms Martens was a sensible investment.

Products

Ms Watson announced that the Splice Girls vinyl box set is ready for release. The set consists of four vinyl records and a limited-edition poster signed by all four members of the group. Ms Watson suggested 12 October as a release date and a retail price of HK$888. Ms Tan reminded Ms Watson that the new Katy K album is scheduled for release on 12 October and proposed that the box set be released on the 19th instead. All agreed.

Operational matters

Ms Yung presented the two options for the office relocation: Wagyu Tower in Kowloon Bay and Island South 101 in Aberdeen. Ms Yung outlined the advantages as well as the drawbacks of the two options. The space in WT is slightly larger, at 2,900 square feet (vs 2,400 ft² in IS101, but the rent is also considerably higher, at HK$86,000/month (compared with HK$75,000 for IS101). Ms Tan pointed out that a distinct advantage of the Aberdeen location is that it would shorten the commute for the majority of our employees. It was decided that we should give this matter further thought before making a decision.

Other business

Ms Watson reported that the plans for the annual team-building weekend are all finalized, except for a few small details. The venue for this year's activities will be the Ma On Shan Adventure Camp and the event will be held on 26–27 October.

3 Showroom

CH confirmed that the showroom will stock all the products from the TT&T online store. She also provided an update on the grand opening, informing the team that it has been decided that it should start one hour later than previously announced, and that it should be an event exclusively for Club TT&T members. CH also shared the good news that the event will feature a guest appearance by Karen the Clown.

SC pointed out that the advertisement will need to be updated not only to reflect these changes, but also to correct the mistake regarding the discount, which is supposed to be for purchases above HK$500 only. He further recommended asking Chris to write a press release, with information both about the new shop and about the grand opening. MA suggested that we try to incorporate the slogan from the ad into the press release. All agreed.
