

A kind moment.

A few days ago, during the school break, a girl noticed one of her classmates sitting alone and crying.

Instead of walking away, she came closer and gently asked, “Would you like to talk?”

Her classmate said she had a problem with her best friend.

The girl listened carefully, without interrupting or judging.

At the end of the day, the classmate smiled and said, “Thank you. I really needed someone to hear me.”

That small act of kindness created a moment of peace between them.

TRUE or FALSE

Read each sentence and write True or False.

1. The girl ignored her classmate.
2. The classmate had an argument with her friend.
3. The girl listened with kindness.
4. The classmate didn't feel better.
5. A small action made a difference.
6. They became enemies after talking.

Match the columns

Match the beginning of each sentence (Column A) with the correct ending (Column B).

Column A	Column B
1. During break time,	a. She had a problem with her best friend.
2. The girl asked,	b. “Would you like to talk?”
3. The classmate explained that	c. The girl saw a classmate crying.
4. The girl	d. listened patiently and with empathy.
5. The classmate said	e. “Thank you for listening to me.”