Emma is a student in London. Every Saturday morning, she works as a volunteer at a local animal shelter. She helps clean the cages, feeds the animals, and sometimes takes the dogs for a walk in the park.

Emma loves animals, so she enjoys her work very much. “It’s hard work,” she says, “but it makes me happy when I see the animals healthy and safe.”

She started volunteering one year ago after visiting the shelter with her school. Now, she wants to become a vet in the future to help more animals.
