

Name :

Class :

Determine the meaning

	Oversees the recording and production process, working with artists to shape their sound.
	Focuses on the technical aspects of sound recording and mixing, ensuring optimal audio quality.
	Develops software and tools for music production and performance.
	Handles the technical aspects of sound for live performances or broadcasts.
	Uses software to manipulate and enhance recorded audio.
	Creates and manipulates sound elements for various media, including music, film, and games.
	Balances the different audio elements in a recording to create a cohesive sound.
	Instructs individuals or groups on playing musical instruments, singing, or music theory.
	Uses music to address the physical, emotional, cognitive, and social needs of individuals.
	Leads musical ensembles, such as orchestras or choirs, and oversees their artistic direction.
	Organizes and manages live music events.
	Promotes artists and their music through media and public relations efforts.
	Oversees all aspects of a music tour, including logistics, scheduling, and personnel.
	Creates original music, including melodies, harmonies, and lyrics.
	Repairs and maintains musical instruments
	Plays music to accompany soloists or vocalists.

Music Therapist	Sound Technician	Instrument Technician	Music Director
Audio Engineer	Music Teacher	Sound Mixer	Concert Promoter
Tour Manager	Accompanist	Publicist	Digital Audio Editor
Composer/Songwriter	Sound Designer	Music Producer	Music Programmer