A Special Day

Last Saturday was a very special day for Anna and David. They got married in a small church in the countryside. The weather was sunny and warm, and the garden was full of colorful flowers.

Anna wore a beautiful white dress and carried a bouquet of roses. David wore a dark blue suit and a big smile. Many friends and family members came to celebrate with them. The ceremony started at 11 a.m. After they said “I do” and exchanged rings, everyone clapped and took photos. Then they went to a nearby restaurant for lunch. There was delicious food, a big wedding cake, and music. People danced, sang, and told funny stories about the couple. Anna and David were very happy. They thanked everyone for coming and promised to remember this day forever.
