Exotic Pets

Some people keep cats and dogs, but others like exotic pets. Exotic pets are animals that are not very common in homes. For example, some people have parrots, snakes, iguanas, or even spiders.

Exotic pets are interesting, but they can be difficult to care for. They often need special food, cages, or light. For example, snakes eat mice, and iguanas need a hot lamp.

If you want an exotic pet, you must learn how to look after it. You should ask a veterinarian for advice. Exotic pets can be wonderful, but they are also a big responsibility.
