

1. Read the article. What is Finn's favorite flavor of Alaskan ice cream?

WORLD FOODS

Vegemite is black and salty. It's definitely not crunchy, but it's the best thing on bread or toast. It's the most delicious thing to have in your sandwiches day or night. It's also the richest source of B vitamins. You don't need much vegemite to experience the full flavor of it. Not everyone likes the taste, but everyone should try it once.

Lindie, Australia

Try some akutaq, Eskimo ice cream. It's made from animal fat and is cold and creamy. Traditional akutaq doesn't taste sweet because there isn't any sugar in it. Alaskan akutaq has sugar and it's the sweetest ice cream around. There are lots of different flavors: fish, dried berries, salmon eggs. The fish ice cream is the crunchiest. Dried berry flavor is my favorite. It can taste sour when there are lots of berries.

Finn, Alaska

Come to Thailand to try the smelliest fruit in the world: the durian fruit. Don't try to take it home on the subway: you can't! It doesn't taste like it smells, and it's actually very juicy. Remember to hold your nose when you cut it open! It's not my favorite fruit. I prefer pineapples!

Anchalee, Thailand

2. Identify the main idea Circle the number of the statement that expresses the main idea of the article.

1. There are lots of different regional foods in different parts of the world.
2. Everyone likes vegemite.
3. You can't travel on the subway with certain types of food.

3. Scan for information Answer the questions.

1. What does vegemite taste like?

It tastes salty and crunchy.

2. Why is vegemite a healthy snack?

3. What is akutaq?

4. What kind of akutaq is the crunchiest?

5. What is the durian fruit like?

6. What is Anchalee's favorite fruit?