Chat GPT is a language model developed by OpenAI that uses deep learning techniques to generate human-like responses to text-based prompts or questions. GPT stands for "Generative Pre-trained Transformer," which is a type of neural network architecture that has been trained on large amounts of text data.

The GPT model is capable of generating coherent and contextually relevant responses to a wide range of prompts, making it useful for a variety of applications, such as chatbots, language translation, and content creation. As a language model, Chat GPT is designed to learn and understand the structure of human language, enabling it to generate responses that sound like they were written by a human.

Chat GPT gets its information from a vast corpus of text data that has been preprocessed and used to train the model. This corpus includes a diverse range of sources, such as books, articles, web pages, and other forms of text-based content that are available on the internet. However, the responses it generates can incorporate knowledge and information that it has learned from this training data.

Everyone wonders if this tool will eliminate the majority of jobs and put a huge majority of people out of work. This is what GBT Chat's answered when ask the question
