Our Healthy Lunch

At school, we often talk about food groups and a balanced diet. We all know we need to eat different kinds of food to stay healthy. Rice is common grain in our meals, but we should eat less rice and more vegetables because vegetables give us fibre. For breakfast, many students eat cereal, but not all of them like it. Some students eat bread and milk instead.

Milk and cheese are popular dairy products. They give us a lot of calcium for strong bones, and we should drink milk every day. My teacher says we should eat fewer sweets and more nuts, because nuts are healthy snacks. They also contain important minerals. My friend Anna eats as many nuts as fruits in her lunchbox! In the end, we agree that we both enjoy food and learn that healthy eating is something we should always remember.
