Monas, or the National Monument, is one of the most famous landmarks in Jakarta, Indonesia. It is located in the center of Merdeka Square and stands as a symbol of the struggle for Indonesian independence.

The monument is a tall white obelisk, reaching 132 meters high. At the very top, there is a flame covered with gold foil, which represents the spirit of freedom that never dies. Around the monument, there is a large park where people can relax, exercise, or enjoy the view.

Inside Monas, visitors can find a museum that displays dioramas and historical collections about Indonesia's fight for independence. There is also an observation deck at the top of the monument. From there, people can see a beautiful panoramic view of Jakarta city.

Monas is not only a historical monument but also a favorite tourist destination. It reminds Indonesians of their national pride and is often visited by both local and international tourists.
