FRIENDSHIP ЦТ 2021

_____ most important thing you should remember when _____ friends is that it doesn't always happen immediately. It may take some time before you can use the word "friend" to describe somebody you know, so don't give _____ just because the relationship is developing more slowly than you'd like. When you can finally call someone a friend with confidence, you have to maintain the friendship. Keeping in _____ touch by phone, email, MSN or Facebook helps, but you also need to hang _____ as well.

The amount of time you spend with each other depends _____ what you both feel is enough. Some people don't mind if you meet them only once _____ month, whereas others feel rejected if you don't get together weekly. Whatever the case, keep the friendship alive!

FAMILY ЦТ 2017

Lin Backman _____ nearly thirty years ago from an orphanage in Indonesia. As her new parents drove away from the orphanage with her in a taxi, the driver asked them about the baby's twin sister. They had no idea that Lin was a twin. ___ Backmans wrote _____ both girls' Indonesian names, and back in Sweden they were able to find the other twin's adoptive family. However, the adoption papers showed different names for the girls' fathers, so the families decided the girls couldn't be twins after all - or even siblings, as they were the same age - and the families lost _____ touch. Years later, Lin found her twin sister Emilie ___ Facebook using her adoptive name and decided to contact her. The girls discovered that they had a lot _____ common. They were both teachers and had both _____ married _____ the same day and danced to the same song at their wedding. A DNA test proved that they are indeed twins, and it now seems that their father was a taxi driver.
