CRITICAL THINKING TEST

SECTION 1: READING COMPREHENSION

15 minutes

Read the following passage and answer the questions that follow:

Today, many people talk about protecting the environment. It is very important to take care of the Earth. The weather is changing fast, and this is causing problems. People everywhere are trying to help. They are finding new ways to make less pollution and keep the planet clean.

Because climate change is happening quickly, communities in many countries are working hard to fix the problem. They are using smart ideas like solar panels and wind turbines to create clean energy. Some groups are also starting local projects to protect forests, rivers, and animals. These actions help lower pollution and make life better for future generations.

As the effects of climate change become more serious, environmental sustainability has taken center stage in global conversations. Communities around the world are implementing innovative strategies to minimize their carbon footprints. These efforts include large-scale renewable energy programs, such as solar and wind farms, as well as smaller, community-driven conservation initiatives aimed at preserving natural resources and promoting sustainable living.
