The Future of Work

The contemporary workplace is in a state of flux, largely due to the _____
(1. PERVADE) influence of digital technology. The _____ (2. NATURAL) of many jobs is changing, with routine tasks becoming increasingly automated. This shift demands a high degree of _____ (3. ADAPT) from the workforce. Employees are now expected to be _____ (4. ENDEAVOUR) learners, constantly updating their skills. While automation may lead to the _____ (5. PLACE) of some roles, it also creates new opportunities in fields we can barely imagine. This _____ (6. TURN) in the job market can be a source of anxiety for many. However, experts suggest that human skills like creativity and empathy will remain _____ (7. DISPENSE), ensuring our relevance in the economy of the future. The key to success lies in our willingness to embrace _____ (8. CONTINUE) learning.
