MY MEMORABLE HOLIDAY

Last December, my friends and I went to Yogyakarta for our school trip. I was really excited since it was my first time there! Our first stop was Borobudur Temple. Honestly, I didn't expect it to be that huge. We woke up super early, but the view from the top was totally worth it. Our guide told us interesting stories about how it was built centuries ago. The next day, we went to Malioboro Street. It was crowded but fun! I bought some batik for my mom and keychains for my siblings. We also tried gudeg - it tasted a bit weird at first, but I ended up liking it. On the last day, we visited Gembira Loka Zoo. We saw elephants, orangutans, and fed some deer. My friend almost got chased by a peacock, which was pretty funny. Overall, it was one of the best school trips ever. Not just because of the places, but also spending time with friends and learning new things outside the classroom.
