

The Weather Today

Hello! My name is Emma. I live in London. Today, the weather is very strange! In the morning, it is sunny and warm. I wear my sunglasses and go for a walk in the park. The sky is blue, and there are only a few white clouds.

In the afternoon, the weather changes. It becomes cloudy and windy. The trees move a lot because of the wind. I go home quickly.

In the evening, it starts to rain. I look outside and see people with umbrellas. The rain is heavy, and the streets are wet. I drink hot chocolate and watch TV.

Tomorrow, the weather forecast says it will be cold and snowy. I am excited because I love snow! I will make a snowman with my little brother.
