

Directions: Change each active sentence into a correct passive sentence.

The teacher explains the lesson.

They will announce the results tomorrow.

The committee has approved the new plan.

Someone cleaned the classroom yesterday.

The students are writing the report.

The company produces high-quality products.

They are going to hold a meeting next week.

People speak English around the world.

The chef cooked a special dish for us.

The police are investigating the case.

Mary will send the invitation cards.

They have built a new bridge.

They are repairing my laptop now.

Someone has stolen his bike.

The storm damaged several houses.

The school will organize a sports day.

Scientists discovered a new planet.

The manager is checking the documents.

They had finished the project before the deadline.

Tom painted this picture.

The author wrote this novel.

The students will present the project tomorrow.

They must follow the rules.

The doctor gave him some advice.

People use this room for interviews.