MY HOLIDAY IN YOGYAKARTA

Last year, my family and I went to Yogyakarta for our school vacation. We travelled by train from Jakarta early in the morning and arrived in Yogyakarta around noon. The weather was sunny and perfect for sightseeing.

On the first day, we visited Malioboro Street. It was very crowded but full of life. My mother bought some traditional batik clothes, and I enjoyed tasting gudeg, the famous local food. My father took many photos of us while we were walking along the street.

The next day, we went to Borobudur Temple, one of the most beautiful temples I have ever seen. We climbed to the top and saw the amazing view of mountains and villages around the temple. I learned that Borobudur was built more than a thousand years ago. It was an unforgettable experience!

Before going home, we stopped by Parangtritis Beach. I played with the waves and collected seashells with my little sister. The wind was strong, but the sunset was breathtaking.

Overall, my trip to Yogyakarta was one of the best holidays I have ever had. I learned many new things, spent time with my family, and brought home lots of happy memories.
