Fill in the CORRECT TENSE

Present, present perfect, past, past perfect – simple or progressive

Tom and his books

Tom is a young boy who loves reading. Every day he …….. (go) to the small library near his home where he …….. (already/find) many interesting books. His favourite books are about adventures and faraway places.

Last Friday afternoon, he …….. (come) home with a heavy bag full of books. His mother …….. (say), "Tom, you have so many books! When will you read them all?" Tom just …….. (smile) and …….. (sit) down in his room. He …….. (begin) a new story about a brave explorer. While he …….. read), Tom …….. (feel) as if he was travelling around the world. He …….. (see) mountains, …….. (meet) new people, and …….. learn) many exciting things. After he …….. (finish) reading, Tom …….. (take) the book to the living room and …….. (tell) his parents about the story and they …….. (listen) with interest, happy that their son loved reading so much.

This month, Tom …….. (already / read) five books. At the moment, he …….. (sit) in his bedroom and he …….. (enjoy) another exciting adventure story. He …….. (read) for two hours and won't stop until bedtime.

LIVEWORKSHEETS