If you wake up early in the morning, you might notice an interesting sight. City parks and streets are often filled with busy men, women, and children. However, they aren't commuting to work or school; they are exercising. While some play sports like football or badminton, many others are jogging.

What exactly is jogging? It is simply running at a gentle pace. People jog to relax, maintain fitness, or just for enjoyment. In our modern world, life has become very sedentary. Fast transportation and elevators in tall buildings mean we rarely exert ourselves physically. Consequently, many people get very little natural exercise.

So, what do you need to start jogging? Very little. You only need a pair of running shoes, some shorts or jeans, a sweater, and a bit of courage. Don't be embarrassed when you first start. It is best to begin slowly, perhaps by alternating between running and walking, and not going too far. Once you establish a routine, you will feel fit, healthy, and ready to start your busy day feeling fresh.

If you need proof of why this is necessary, look around the swimming pool the next time you visit. Notice how many people over thirty have excess belly fat. This visible sign of inactivity explains why so many people today are turning to jogging and other forms of exercise.

Dear Kevin,

How are things with you? I hope you are doing great there. I am doing fine here.

We are going to participate in the school English speech contest next month, aren't we? Have you written your speech script? To be honest, I have some difficulties in preparing for it, especially in my speaking confidence. I have practiced in front of the mirror every day and I even recorded my voice. But, I feel that my pronunciation is still terrible. I often get nervous and forget the words when I try to speak in front of people. I am just worried that I will freeze on stage and look silly. Do you have any tips to improve my confidence? I really need your advice.

I look forward to hearing from you.

Your friend,

Bima

Dear Aunt Nisa,

Aunty, I have some good news for you. Last month I passed my final examination. A week ago I succeeded to join in a senior high school English competition. Last night my parents promised to send me to a famous English course in my town. They also promised me if my scores in English are good, they'll send me to a foreign university. Great, isn't it? I'll work hard. I want to be a great paediatrician like you, Aunty.

Well, that's all for now. Looking forward to having your news.

Love,

Dewi
