

1. Match the main character to their defining flaw at the beginning of the novel:

1. Mr. Darcy	A. Obsequiousness
2. Elizabeth Bennet	B. Pride
3. Mr. Collins	C. Jealousy
4. Miss Bingley	D. Prejudice

2. Click the single word that best describes the literary device used in the opening sentence of Pride and Prejudice:

"It is a truth universally acknowledged, that a single man in possession of a good fortune, must be in want of a wife."

A. Sarcasm      B. Irony      C. Hyperbole

3. Drag the four phrases that best describe Mr. Bennet's speaking style and place them into the two correct columns: "Wit" or "Indifference".

Words to drag: sarcastic, detached, observational, complacent

Wit	Indifference

4. Explain, in one complete sentence, why the marriage of Charlotte Lucas and Mr. Collins is a key example of the "marriage market" in Austen's time, rather than a union based on love: