

Barcelona, Spain

Barcelona is a very _____ (beautiful / ugly) city, and it's famous for the architect Antoni Gaudí. Every day I see a different Gaudí building, and they are always _____ (interesting / boring).

La Sagrada Familia is amazing. It started in 1882, _____ (however / and) it isn't finished yet.

Las Ramblas is a _____ (crowded / spacious) street with great cafés. I've eaten delicious tapas every day. The weather is _____ (relaxing / stressful), so I think I came at the right time of year.

— Kathy

Cartagena, Colombia

Cartagena has two different personalities. One part of the city is _____ (lively / boring) _____ (and / though) full of fancy restaurants and old plazas.

The other part is a _____ (relaxing / dangerous) place with sandy beaches.

If you come here, you should stay in the historic district – it's _____ (beautiful / polluted) _____ (however / and) sometimes very _____ (crowded / empty).

Last night I learned salsa steps at an old dance club. Today, I went on a canoe tour of the mangrove forest. It was _____ (interesting / stressful).

— Mike

Bangkok, Thailand

Bangkok is the most _____ (exciting / boring) place I've ever visited. There's something for everyone. Some activities are _____ (dangerous / safe), _____ (though / and) many are very fun.

At night the city can be _____ (noisy / clean), _____ (however / and) the food is always _____ (delicious / ugly).

There are clubs, restaurants, cafés, and movie theaters everywhere. It's impossible to be _____ (bored / relaxed) here. I love it!

— Jasmin

