Proofreading

The following story has nine mistakes. Use the proofreading marks to fix each mistake. Then, write the misspelled list words correctly on the lines.

Yesterday, Bo and I went to our first community orchestra concert. As we walked in, the musicians were playing a scail to warm up. The usher helped us logate our seats. Then, everything went silent as the conductor walked on stage. He turned to the orchestra and oapened the score on the music stand.

"Look. There are two tubah players in the orchestra," Bo said.

"Doesn't the first one look familiar?" I asked.

"That's our music teacher!" Bo said with pride.

"That gives me an idea. Let's go see him after the concert. I bet he'll be surprised," I said.

Just then, the conductor raised his baton and beautiful music sounds began to fill the auditorium.
