1. Read the text and write "yes" or "no".

It was winter. One Saturday morning in December when David and Helen woke up, the garden was white. 'It's snowing!' they shouted. 'Let's put on our warm clothes and go out in the snow.'

'Let's make a snowman!' They made two big snowballs for his body and his head. Helen cut some card for his nose. David found two pieces of glass for his eyes. They found a piece of wood for his mouth. 'He needs clothes!' said David. David took off his striped scarf. Helen took off her gloves and hat, and David gave the snowman his coat and belt.

'Look, Mum!' said Helen. 'Look at our enormous snowman. His eyes are made of glass, his nose is made of card, his mouth is made of wood and his clothes are made of wool. He's nice and warm now!'

'Yes, he is, but you aren't!' said Mum. 'Come inside and sit by the fire.'
