

1. Read the text and answer the questions

This morning the weather is sunny, but the street is a little foggy. I walk to school. The weather is windy and my hair moves a lot. I feel sleepy, but the sun helps me feel cheerful. Then the sky gets cloudy and rainy. I feel cold, but I keep walking.

At school, the weather changes again. It becomes snowy, then hailing. My friends show many feelings. One friend is excited, one is worried, and one boy is moody. A girl is smiling, but a small boy is crying. I feel nervous when I hear thunder and see lightning in the sky.

After school, the weather is stormy and freezing. I feel scared, so I go home fast. At home, I am hungry, tired, and a little angry. My mother gives me warm soup. I feel better. Later the sky becomes partly cloudy. Now I feel happy and surprised, not unhappy, sad, or bored anymore.

2. Match the definitions

Sad – Happy – Sleepy – Scared – Tired

- A) You feel good and smile.....
- B) You feel tired in your eyes and want to sleep.....
- C) You feel bad and want to cry.....
- D) You feel scared because something is not safe.....
- E) You feel no energy and want to rest.....

3. Write true or false

The morning is foggy.

The student feels sleepy in the morning.

It is sunny and warm after school.

A boy at school is crying.

4. Answer the questions

1. What is the weather today?
2. How does the boy feel?
3. Who is crying at school?
4. Where does the boy go after school?
5. What does the mother give him?

5. Order the events

- A) The student feels sleepy in the morning.
- B) It becomes snowy and hailing at school.
- C) The student eats warm soup at home.
- D) The student walks to school in sunny and foggy weather.
- E) The student feels happy at the end of the day.

6. Correct the mistakes

1. The student goes home in sunny and warm weather.
2. A girl at school is crying.
3. The boy feels angry in the morning.
4. The weather is cloudy and windy at the end of the day.
5. The student eats cold soup at home.