LISTEN TO A DIALOGUE AGAIN THEN COMPLETE THE BLANK

Nancy: Hey, Mark! That was fun! Do you to play basketball again on Saturday?

Mark: Sorry Nancy! But on Saturdays, I usually go shopping with my mum.

Nancy: Do you go to the mall?

Mark: No! I help her do the shopping at the supermarket. My sister always goes to the mall, but I hate shopping for clothes!

Nancy: Me too. I hate all kinds of shopping! I never even go to the supermarket. But I still help my at the weekends. I do the laundry and vacuum the rugs. I never do the washing-up, though – I always things! So how about Sunday? Are you free then?

Mark: Well, in summer I usually go on a picnic with my family on Sundays, but my parents have got tickets to visit a museum, so I I'm free!

Nancy: Great! Let's meet at 10 o'clock.

Mark: Hang on, sorry, I always to my cousin online on Sunday mornings. He lives in Australia, so it's 7:00 in the evening when it's 10 o'clock here! Let's meet at 11:30 instead.

Nancy: OK. See you at the basketball court on Sunday!
