An aunt and an uncle come to visit

Last weekend, Sally's Aunt Helen came to visit Sally and her family. On Friday evening, Sally went to the airport with her mum in the car to meet her. Sally's friend Vicky was at the airport too.

'My Uncle Robert is coming to see us,' said Vicky.

'That's funny,' said Sally, 'my aunt is coming to stay with us!'

Robert's plane arrived ten minutes after Helen's.

On Saturday morning, Sally took Helen to the beach. They swam in the sea and then they walked on the beach.

'Look,' said Helen, 'isn't that your friend and her uncle?'

'Oh yes, it is,' said Sally.

Vicky was on the beach with her Uncle Robert.

'We're going for lunch now,' said Robert. 'Why don't you come with us?'

So the four of them had lunch together in a restaurant.

In the evening, Sally's family went to the cinema with Helen.

'Hello,' said someone behind them in the cinema. It was Robert. He was there with Vicky and her family.

On Monday afternoon, Helen had to go back home. Sally and Mum took her to the airport. And there they found Vicky, with her mum and Uncle Robert! Robert and Helen had tickets for the same plane.

'And it's lovely to have a new friend to sit next to on the plane,' said Helen.

Reptiles

Example Crocodiles, snakes and lizards are all examples of the 1 group of animals are called 'reptiles'. Some reptiles live in water and some never go into water. Most of them live in the hotter

2 parts of the world. Reptiles have lived our planet for a 3 very long time. We know this the dinosaurs were also part of this group of animals.

4 are more than 6800 kinds of reptile in the world and 5 each kind is very different. Lizards, example, can run 6 very fast, but snakes don't have legs and they can't run. The smallest reptiles are called 'geckos' and they are smaller than your hand. The biggest reptile is a kind of snake. Some snakes 7 longer than a bus.

8 Most reptiles come eggs and most of them eat meat.
9 They eat very slowly and they usually need to eat just a day. Reptiles need to spend a lot of time in the sun. They are very 10 cold animals they have to sit in the sun to make them hot.

Hi Grandma,

Example ThankYOU..... for the birthday card and the presents. The jacket that you gave me is great because is very warm and I love the colour. And 1 2 thanks for the game – I played it my friend William all afternoon.

I'm happy that you're going to come and stay here 3 week and the week after that. I'm in 4 the school football and we've got a 5 match on Tuesday. I'd you to watch me play. William's grandparents are going to come too.

See you soon.

Love, Richard
