Water puppetry is a traditional art form. It began in the 11th century. It originated in villages of the Red River Delta of North Viet Nam. The show is performed in a pool. The puppets are supported by strings under the water and controlled by the puppeteers behind a screen, so they appear to be moving on the water. The puppets are made of wood and then painted.

The themes of the puppet shows are rural: the performances show everyday life in the countryside and folk tales, and include rice farming, fishing, and Vietnamese village festivals.
