I. Read the text and answer the questions.

The students are getting ready for their summer vacation. A trip to a coastal city has been planned, and most of the arrangements have already been made. The accommodation has been booked near the beach, and the main activities have been organized in advance.

However, not everything is ready yet. Some documents haven't been printed, and the final schedule hasn't been shared with everyone. A few students are worried because their bags haven't been packed yet, and the weather forecast hasn't been checked properly.

Despite this, the group is excited. Important information has been sent through the group chat, and most questions have already been answered. If the last details are finished on time, the trip will be relaxed and enjoyable for everyone.
