Adverbs (Intensifiers) & Conjunctions

1. Adverbs (Intensifiers)

We use adverb intensifiers before adjectives to show how strong something is.
Word order: Adverb + Adjective
Example: very big / really nice

Strong intensifiers

- Very
- Really
- Extremely
- so

Examples:
The city is very big.
The hotel is really nice.
The weather is extremely hot.
The movie was so interesting.

Medium intensifiers

- pretty
- quite

Examples:
The restaurant is pretty good.
The city is quite clean.

Weak intensifiers

- fairly
- somewhat
- a little

Examples:
The hotel is fairly expensive.
The place is somewhat noisy.
The city is a little crowded.

Negative intensifier

- too

Examples:
The city is too crowded.
The hotel is too expensive for me.

Important!
Do NOT use two intensifiers together.
Correct: really big
Incorrect: very really big

2. Conjunctions

AND – adds information (idea + same or similar idea (both positive or both negative)).
Example: The city is big and clean.

BUT – shows contrast (idea → different idea)
Example: The city is big, but it is noisy.

HOWEVER / THOUGH – shows contrast (more formal or at the end)
Example: It's a big city. It's not too big, though.
