

Reading: No Moon No Milk by Chris Babcock

A. Watch the story video.

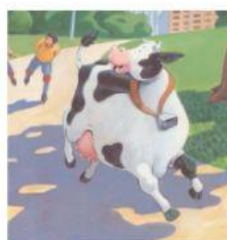

Click on the places they visit in the story:

|          |            |         |
|----------|------------|---------|
| Boston   | California | Florida |
| New York | Oregon     | Texas   |

B. What happens in the story? Drag and Drop!

|                                                                                    |                                                                                    |                                                                                   |                                                                                     |                                                                                      |
|------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-----------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|--------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|
| Rob and Martha are surfing in California                                           | They are going to the theatre in New York                                          | Rob is trying to milk his cow on his farm                                         | They are going by bus to look at Crater Lake in Oregon                              | Martha is crying and saying "No moon no milk"                                        |
|  |  |  |  |  |
|                                                                                    |                                                                                    |                                                                                   |                                                                                     |                                                                                      |

C. What happens next? Draw a line between the words and their pictures

Martha is running through Central Park in New York

Martha is hiding in the farm animals exhibit in the Museum of Natural History

Martha is stepping onto the moon exhibit

The guard is running after Rob and Martha

Rob is milking Martha back home on the farm

D. The End. Select the correct answers:

Rob: So, how was it to cow around on the moon?

Rob: Why?!

Martha: _____

Martha: _____