

1. You aren't allowed to join the police force if you have a
2. If you find yourself, make sure you call your lawyer immediately.
3. The robbers almost got away but a in another house had written down the number of their car.
4. The police believe that the thieves managed to through the back door.
5. Jane's really worried because her case comes up in next Monday.
6. The police have announced that they are hoping to somebody in connection with the crime very shortly.
7. The government has decided to completely change the to make it fairer.
8. The accused woman lowered her head as the was read out.
9. The punishment for your is usually not as severe as it is for later crimes.
10. The of the crime appeared on television to ask for help.